'FROM THE RECTORY'

New Rectory High Street Fincham nr. King's Lynn Norfolk PE33 9AP 01366 348079

Dear All,

What could be better than spending a summer afternoon chatting with friends over a pot of tea? Spending time with our friends is important – catching up with news or maybe discussing the latest episode of your favourite soap - it doesn't really matter; it's finding the time to be together that is important. And without time and togetherness it is almost impossible to sustain a friendship, let alone give it a chance to grow. Just as this is true of human relationships so it is true of our relationship with God. We need to spend time with him if our relationship is to grow but it is the one relationship that we often take for granted and we allow all sorts of things to take priority. I wonder how God feels when we spare him a few minutes of our precious time only if something more "important" doesn't come along? I am reminded of a poem by Adrian Plass entitled The Phone Call:

O Jesus – Don't come round tonight, I'm busy at the hall,
And the chances of a chat with you
Are really rather small.
So many people need me,
And I can't deny them all,
So! It looks as if I won't be in,
If you decide to call.

I hope you will have time for ALL your friends this month, including God, the most special friend of us all. He is one friend who will never let you down.

Yours in His service

Barbara

The Bishop of Ely enters the House of Lords

The Bishop of Ely, the Rt Revd Stephen Conway, has today (7th July 2014) been introduced into the House of Lords and now takes his place as one of the 26 Lords Spiritual.

Bishop Stephen was introduced by the Bishop of Truro, the Rt Revd Tim Thornton and the Bishop of Chelmsford, the Rt Revd Stephen Cottrell. At a short ceremony he read an oath of allegiance and was invited to sign the membership register.

The short ceremony should be viewable on BBC Democracy Live www.bbc.co.uk/democracylive/ in the House of Lords section Bishop Stephen said: "It is a great honour to be summoned to Parliament to serve as a member of the Lords Spiritual. I make sense of this call as I hope to speak not just for the Church and faith interests, but as a spokesperson for the concerns of citizens of our region. I have a particular passion to speak about education, mental health and disability."

- 1. 26 bishops of the Church of England sit in the House of Lords. Known as the Lords Spiritual, they read prayers at the start of each daily meeting and play a full and active role in the life and work of the Upper House.

Bishop of Ely Celebrates Women Bishop Vote

The Bishop of Ely, the Rt Revd Stephen Conway, responding to today's General Synod vote (14th July) on the consecration of women to the episcopate, said: "The clear vote for women bishops by the General Synod is the culmination of years of prayer, study and debate. It is a joyous and thrilling breakthrough for the Church of God and in particular for the Church of England. I am excited by the prospect of our being able to move as swiftly as possible to the consecration of the first women as colleagues within the College and House of Bishops.

"The fulfilment of the hope of a large majority of us in the Church of England, myself included, makes me all the more aware of the headship and traditionalist catholic clergy and parishes who are disappointed by this outcome and who are concerned about their future place as honoured Anglicans.

"I am committed to the practical outworking of the Five Guiding Principles, and I am sure that as we try to live in hope rather than just hurt with each other, that there will be opportunities for working out some kind of customary of our common life. We can make this work, we must make this work. We shall make this work through the abiding love of God for all of us."

COUNTRYSIDE NOTES

WW1.....THEY ALSO SERVED

When war broke out the British Army had only 25,000 horses, immediately the War Office were faced with the task of finding another half a million to go into battle.

As well as serving the cavalry they were needed for transporting weapons and supplies and to carry casualties to the hospitals. Although recruited from farms the main source came from the USA with 1,000 being shipped to Britain every day. The British Army created special veterinary hospitals which improved welfare, vets treated two and a half million injured animals of which 75% returned to service. The horses were vulnerable to appalling weather conditions as well as being killed in action and losses were comparable to human losses. Of one million sent to the Western Front more than 900,000 didn't return. It's estimated that eight million horses, donkeys and mules died in WW1; 7,000 horses alone were killed at the Battle of Verdun in 1916.

By 1918 the Germans were employing 30,000 dogs with Britain, France and Belgium using 20,000 and Italy 3,000. They needed to be of medium size, intelligent and easily trained; many breeds were used with Doberman Pinschers and GSDs proving most popular. They performed many different tasks working not only as guard dogs but also as scout dogs doing reconnaissance to detect the presence of enemy which they indicated silently by raising their hackles instead of barking. They were called upon to transport munitions and messenger dogs carrying vital messages proved reliable, guick and agile enough to cross all kinds of difficult terrain and offered a smaller target to snipers than a human. Casualty dogs, also known as 'mercy' dogs, were equipped with medical supplies and would seek out wounded soldiers or stay and comfort those who were beyond helping themselves. Terriers were also kept in the trenches to kill rats and dogs were adopted as mascots which improved morale in the lines.

100,000 pigeons were used in WW1 to deliver messages from the Front Line and battle fields with a remarkable success rate of 95%. There was a £100 fine or six months imprisonment for killing, wounding or molesting a homing pigeon but the biggest threat came not from humans but birds of prey such as falcons. At Marne the French had 72 pigeon lofts which were moved forward as they advanced. Often this was done when pigeons were out on missions but they still found their way back to the lofts.

GARDENING TIPS

For a change everything in the garden 'looks rosy', at least it does in mine! After such an early start to the gardening year I really thought some things would be looking a bit blousy by now, but all in all we have had a big slice of luck this year, at least as far as the gardens are concerned. We had a nice early start and no unwelcome late frosts to speak of, reasonably warm conditions with enough rain to keep things going without too much additional watering. Although I no longer have a vegetable garden myself I understand most things are cropping well, if a bit earlier than usual. The roses seem to be even better than ever, early it has to be said, but if they are dead headed regularly a good second or, this year, even a third crop may be in line. What is even better my climbers are producing good strong new growth for next year. It is advisable to keep these tied in just in case we get an early autumn gale later in the month which, I think, is quite on the cards.

Towards the middle of the month areas of the vegetable garden will be cleared of the early crops. In view of the early start to the season it may well be worth trying to get in a second crop of some quick maturing varieties. The soil is nice and warm so germination would be quick. Having taken out a drill carefully water into the drill and allow the water to drain away before sowing your seed thinly to avoid overcrowding. A successional sowing of carrots or beetroot could give you a nice young crop towards the end of September. I have even known potatoes planted now to crop towards the end of September or early in October – it may be worth a try if you have any seed or even old potatoes left from last year's crop. The early season raspberries will more or less be finished by now so don't delay in cutting out the old canes and starting to tie in the new young growth. At this early stage tie them all in, you can always cut out any of the weaker growth later in the season when you see in total what you have. If you haven't already pruned your soft fruit bushes get them done quickly, any delay now will only detract from next year's harvest.

There is really little to be done in the flower borders at this time other than to cut off the dead heads and cut out any broken or dying stems. Leaving the latter will only encourage disease. However, this is the ideal time to survey your flower beds be they holding perennials or annuals. Are there any plants that are unhappy in their current positions and need moving later in the autumn or even next spring to a new spot? Are there any gaps that need to be filled with an additional plant? Whilst the flowers are in full growth it is much easier to see what needs to be done to improve or strengthen the border.

GARDENING TIPS

I sowed my pansy and polyanthus a little earlier than recommended in my July article but towards the end of July I shall follow with the wallflowers sown in seed trays, and by the time this article is published they will probably be ready for pricking out. This year I sowed my pansy and polyanthus at the time of a waxing moon and true to form, the germination was fantastic. I sowed the polyanthus straight from the packet without the recommended cold treatment and I am now confident that for this variety the latter is really quite unnecessary. I am equally confident that sowing your seeds during the period of a waxing moon, as I was told by my Grandfather, really is very beneficial indeed. Perhaps next year I will try to germinate primroses in the same routine.

I am becoming very concerned at the lack of bees in my garden and all my close neighbours have the same problem. One gentleman has a mass of lavender in full bloom but hardly a bee in sight and similarly hardly a butterfly. Last year the plants were alive with both! With this in mind it may mean that we shall need to give the runner bean flowers a very light spray with clean water to effect a set. I have, however, noticed a type of bee that I have not seen before. Their size is about half way between a honey bee and a bumble and they have a mass of brown fur on the back of their head and shoulders. I wonder if the latter is a form of disease as I have only ever seen these bees crawling along the ground or, perhaps they have spread here from the continent. I am not well versed on the subject of bees and I wonder whether any of my readers can throw any light on my findings.

My final thought for the month – at the time of writing we are experiencing pleasantly warm and calm conditions but beware, I fear we may have some autumn gales rather earlier than usual this year! Roy Coughtrey

COUNTRYSIDE NOTES

The Imperial Camel Corps Brigade was a camel-mounted infantry brigade raised by the British Empire in December 1916 for service in the Middle East. With the grave shortage of horses at home in Britain to work the farms and provide transport even circus animals helped out. Camels were put to work and in Sheffield an Indian elephant named Lizzie transported machinery and scrap across the town and was said to be the equal of three horses. Meanwhile in Surrey elephants were working on farms ploughing the land and pulling loaded wagons. Jill Mason

FROM THE SMALLHOLDING IN SUMMER

Home thoughts from....well from southern Greece actually. Giorgios with his order pad reeled off the dishes of the day in his seaside restaurant, terraced down to a rocky shore line; "We have green beans with zucchini and garlic in tomato sauce, we have chicken with lemon On that evening we went no further, green beans it was and the chicken too. The beans were stunningly good, good enough to order again two evenings later. The great thing about that meal was that we chorused "we can do this at home" from our own garden produce. French beans freeze well and most years tomatoes, garlic and courgettes are readily available. What home couldn't provide was the sun setting behind a mountain leaving an orange rosy glow over a rather unquiet sea.

That and other similar experiences led us to look much more closely at the productivity of comparatively small garden patches. Aubergines, peppers, courgettes, tomatoes and beans all grown close together in well protected patches near to a house. Water should have been a problem but wasn't, each row of plants, with their supports being surrounded by low bunds of soil which held the moisture from watering every few days. I thought it best not to enquire too deeply about the fertility!

Back at home the directly sown vegetables had not flourished during the dry May. Watering and some organic N pellets got them, and the weeds, going again. Earlier sown broad beans have done well.

In the fruit cage there is a good crop of currants, red, white, and black and the Glen Moy raspberries introduced last year are getting a hold and proving very worth while. The unwritten share – crop agreement with the birds is made possible by the weeds obscuring the best fruit; it also is one possible reason for our gardens being the best habitat for song birds. Bird song at Eastmoor compares very well with that on the organic olive groves of southern Greece. It is sad to record the demise of many song birds where real progress has been made in the production and export of organic olive oil; perhaps a trail of shot gun cartridges tells the tale.

The other side of the hedge

The hedges which mark the boundaries of the smallholding, and which are in constant need of attention separate us from farm land and the many associated activities. The part of the landscape visible from an upstairs window is of, this year, potatoes grown on lease (for chips) and then Birch wood and the lane leading to the bridge. Those who farm our surrounding acres are a part of the landscape; we can tell the time of day by their movements and of course the seasons, each has his speciality – for land and plants and harvested crop. So with the passing of Henry there will be a change in the 'landscape' but there will always be the memory of meticulous care with the spray boom and the lone figure walking along the ditch beside Birch wood, to feed the pheasants.

Back inside the hedge things bode well for a good crop from the orchard, both apples and plums with some pears looking quite good too. Time now to provide some support for the lower branches and to take courage and thin some plums.

The clearly received message from Greece is to remember that small is beautiful and can crop well too! Robin Blackall

CALLING ALL BRECKLAND ARTISTS!

Breckland Council is calling on local artists to get in touch to take part in the 2014 Breckland Art Trail.

Following the success of the 2012 and 2013 Trails Breckland Communities Officer, Sam Patel, has started work on the 2014 event to recruit local artists and create a class and demonstration programme - a new edition to the art trail this year. Last year saw a fantastic range of exhibits on show from over 70 local artists including paintings, prints, photographs, ceramics, textiles and sculpture; organisers are hoping for a similar range this year.

With 850 visitors calling in at studios and exhibition spaces over the nine days in 2013, resulting on over £4,500 worth of art sales, being part of the Trail last year was very worthwhile for participating artists. One artist commented that the Trail had brought her more visitors than Norfolk Open Studios and that most of her visitors were planning to visit all the venues in the leaflet.

Breckland-based artists have until 26 August to get in touch with Sam to find out more and to register to take part. Although Breckland will publicise the event by producing and distributing a brochure featuring all participating artists, the onus is on participating artists to promote the Trail and their work.

The dates of the Trail are 8 - 16 November 2014. Artists who are interested in taking part should email samantha.patel@breckland.gov.uk to request a registration form. The cost to participate is £10 per artist or £30 per group. More details will be at www.breckland.gov.uk/arttrail

ELECTORAL REGISTRATION

There is an upcoming major change in voter registration that may affect some of the residents living in this area. This change could mean that they can't vote in elections and referendums in the future unless they take action to join the new register. All eligible electors are to make sure that they are on the new register.

The biggest change to the way people register to vote in over 100 years is taking place this year. The transition to Individual Electoral Registration means that everyone will register to vote individually, rather than by household as they do at the moment. Most people will be transferred automatically to the new register but around 10.5 million people will need to re-register and there are at least another 6 million who are not registered at the moment but should be.

The electoral commission have been running a TV campaign from 2nd July for 6 weeks. Please note the poster on the opposite page in this magazine and the article in last month's G4N.

More details about the change can be found at gov.uk/yourvotematters

SOMETHING TO THINK ABOUT

If you're not familiar with the work of Steven Wright, he's the famous erudite scientist and humorist who once said: "I woke up one morning and all of my stuff had been stolen and replaced by exact duplicates. His mind sees things differently than most of us do. Here are some of his gems.....

- 1. I'd kill for a Nobel Peace Prize.
- Borrow money from pessimists -- they don't expect it back.
- 3. Half the people you know are below average.
- 4. 99% of lawyers give the rest a bad name.
- 5. 82.7% of all statistics are made up on the spot.
- 6. A conscience is what hurts when all your other parts feel so good.
- 7. A clear conscience is usually the sign of a bad memory.
- 8. If you want the rainbow, you got to put up with the rain.
- 9. The early bird may get the worm but the second mouse gets the cheese.
- 10. OK, so what's the speed of dark?
- 11. How do you tell when you're out of invisible ink?
- 12. Depression is merely anger without enthusiasm.

HOW TO REGISTER YOUR VOTE

COULD YOU HELP A YOUNG PERSON WITH A DISABILITY TO THINK ABOUT THEIR FUTURE?

The CSV Futures Project supports young people with learning disabilities to explore their options as they think about leaving education.

Volunteer Mentors provide one to one support to a young person to help them develop a personal profile of their skills and interests, their likes and dislikes and their future goals. The Mentor can then support the young person to start working towards these; this can include accessing work experience and training opportunities plus the chance to try out volunteering and new social activities.

CSV needs volunteers who can offer a couple of hours of their time each week to mentor the young people as they make choices about their futures, raising aspirations by exploring together the young person's skills, interests and abilities.

We are looking for people ages 16+ - Mentors can come from all walks of life and no experience is needed but patience, the ability to listen and a sense of humour are all useful skills. Mentors receive full training and support and out of pocket expenses are paid.

If you would like to find out more about becoming a Volunteer Mentor for the CSV Futures Project please contact:

"You don't look anything like the long haired, skinny kid I married 25 years ago. I need a DNA sample to make sure it's still you."

'LIGHTS OUT' 4TH AUGUST 2014 10 - 11PM,

"The lamps are going out all over Europe, we shall not see them lit again in our life-time". Words spoken by Sir Edward Grey, Foreign Secretary in August 1914, as Britain's ultimatum to Germany was about to expire

What is LIGHTS OUT?

LIGHTS OUT is an invitation to everyone in the UK to turn off their lights from 10pm until 11pm, leaving on a single light or candle for this shared moment of reflection.

In a dramatic nationwide event, the UK will plunge into darkness between 10pm and 11pm on 4th August 2014: upon this darkened canvas single lights will appear across the four nations, marking the hour that Britain entered World War 1 one hundred years ago.

LIGHTS OUT is a headline project of the cultural programme 14-18 NOW and was initiated by the Department for Culture, Media & Sport; 14-18 NOW is a curated programme of new art works across the UK that forms part of the official commemorations of the Centenary of the First World War and is hosted within Imperial War Museums. LIGHTS OUT complements a candlelit vigil to be held at Westminster Abbey from 10pm-11pm on 4th August.

Every member of every community in the UK is invited to respond to LIGHTS OUT bringing their own personal thoughts and reflections to the occasion. We understand many civic buildings, city landmarks, war memorials and other gathering places within local communities are to become natural assembly points during the LIGHTS OUT hour.

How local community organisations can take part in LIGHTS OUT. Is there a local war memorial near you?

Many community groups are organising candlelit gatherings at local war memorials as part of LIGHTS OUT. Some are researching the history and lineage behind the names listed on memorials. We are working closely with the Royal British Legion whose volunteers are organising candlelit gatherings: to connect with local Royal British Legion volunteers please go to:

http://www.britishlegion.org.uk/membership/counties-and-branches/branches

Could your organisation do something unique?

Some local community groups and arts organisations have incorporated LIGHTS OUT in a very individual way; e.g. some choir rehearsals that night will be done by candlelight; book groups may gather to explore WW1 poetry and literature by candlelight; arts organisations have invited local artists to engage with LIGHTS OUT by creating an artwork in response and displaying it by candlelight; some performing arts events on 4th August have incorporated a LIGHTS OUT element, for example, concerts or other performances taking place by candlelight, or by incorporating a single light display into the evening's events.

Could your local businesses take part?

Every building can take part in LIGHTS OUT. Offices and businesses can ensure all lights are switched off (where safe to do so) and that a single light of any kind (e.g. a lamp, stairwell light, outdoor uplighter etc.) is left on.

Links into local history

Some LIGHTS OUT participants have organised local events which draw upon local history, for example a display of local WW1 artefacts and/or research into local WW1 history.

How will LIGHTS OUT be executed?

- In the months before the public launch, LIGHTS OUT seeks the support and participation of UK local authorities, organisations, community groups, businesses and iconic buildings. LIGHTS OUT moments and affiliated events are uploaded on the LIGHTS OUT website.
- For public launch (early July, tbc), LIGHTS OUT invites members of the public to participate between 10pm and 11pm on 4th August. Moments and events of public interest are advertised on the LIGHTS OUT website and will be publicised regionally and nationally.
- Artists have been commissioned to produce large-scale outdoor artworks on 4th August in response to LIGHTS OUT. Each one will take place in a carefully selected location and members of the public will be invited to experience them in person.
- A digital artwork has been commissioned in response to LIGHTS OUT which will be free to download by all.
- Working closely with the BBC and other media, LIGHTS OUT will be brought into people's homes and hands on 4th August.

For more information and to register your participation in LIGHTS OUT please email: lightsout@1418now.org.uk

If I should die, think only this of me:
That there's some corner of a foreign field
That is for ever England. There shall be
In that rich earth a richer dust concealed;
A dust whom England bore, shaped, made aware,
Gave, once, her flowers to love, her ways to roam,
A body of England's, breathing English air,
Washed by rivers, blest by suns of home.

And think, this heart, all evil shed away,
A pulse in the eternal mind, no less
Gives somewhere back the thoughts by England given;
Her sights and sounds; dreams happy as her day;
And laughter, learnt of friends; and gentleness,
In hearts at peace, under an English heaven.

NHS BLOOD AND TRANSPLANT

Give Before You Go

With the school holidays here, people are being asked to give blood before they go away, especially if they have the blood groups B Rh negative and O Rh negative.

NHS Blood and Transplant is reminding people to donate ahead of their breaks to help maintain stocks for hospital patients over the summer.

B Rh negative blood is in demand because certain ethnic groups are more prone to particular diseases that require blood, such as sickle cell anaemia and thalassemia and a higher proportion of these ethnic groups are Group B Rh. Group B Rh negative blood can be given to B negative or B positive patients. Donors with blood group O Rh negative are typically known as the "universal donor" as their blood can be given to patients with a different blood group. This can prove vital in an emergency situation when there may not be time for an immediate blood grouping test to be carried out.

Derek Carr, Lead Donor Relations Manager for Anglia, said: "We know people are busy and especially in the summer but we're asking that they remember those hospital patients who need blood to save or improve their lives. We're asking our donors to please make an appointment to donate before they go away.

"If you've never given blood before, why not make this summer the time you join our donors and make a difference to others? Each blood donation can potentially save up to three lives."

Patients in need of blood in accident and emergency situations, patients undergoing surgery and receiving treatment for cancer and blood diseases, and women haemorrhaging in childbirth rely on blood donors.

You can find out whether we've got a session coming up in your area on www.blood.co.uk and book an appointment online to donate.

You can also register to become a donor on our website. Anyone aged between 17 - 65, weighing more than 50 kg (7 stone 12lbs) and in general good health could potentially start saving lives by becoming a blood donor. There is no upper age limit for donors who have donated in the last two years.

For additional information and any other requests please contact the NHSBT press office by calling 01923 367600

For urgent out-of-hours enquiries please contact the on call press officer on 0117 969 2444.

SUMMER READING CHALLENGE

Summer holidays are just around the corner and Norfolk County Council's libraries are giving the county's children the chance to replace maths for myths in their annual campaign to keep children reading during the summer break.

The sixteenth annual Summer Reading Challenge is aimed at four to eleven year-olds and will run in all County Council-run libraries, including mobile libraries, throughout the school holidays.

The theme for the 2014 Summer Reading Challenge is 'Mythical Maze'. Children who take part can choose and read any six books during the summer and receive stickers, top trump cards and a medal and certificate for completing the challenge. They can pick any kind of story or factual book including audio books, all of which can be borrowed for free from the library. Last year over 14,000 children took part.

All 47 of the council's libraries will be holding events throughout the holidays, with launch events across the county during the next two weeks. Staff and young volunteers at Earlham, Downham Market and King's Lynn libraries will be dressing up in Mythical Maze themed outfits, Great Yarmouth Library are putting on arts and crafts activities and allowing free entry to the Tolhouse Museum next door and a whole host of local libraries will be decked out with Mythical Maze books, displays and challenge packs.

Once again a special summer mobile library specially decorated in the Mythical Maze theme will reach families who may not be near a library or regular mobile stop. It will be stopping across the county during the first three weeks of the holiday at RAF Marham and Robertson Barracks and play schemes and children's centres in towns including Belton, Gorleston, Outwell and Thetford. Once aboard there will be quizzes, colouring, stories and other things to make and do.

As an added bonus children doing Mythical Maze and picking up an Arts Award Discover pack for £2.50 at Dereham, Fakenham, Swaffham and Thetford libraries will get free entry to Ancient House Museum and Gressenhall Farm and Workhouse during the summer.

Cllr Paul Smyth, Chairman of Norfolk County Council's Communities Committee, said: "Reading is a weather-proof way for kids to have fun during the summer break and once again our libraries are providing local opportunities for children to develop life enhancing skills outside of school.

"This Reading Challenge is a county-wide effort so if parents are wondering what to do with their kids during the holiday period I hope they will remember to visit their local library."

The Summer Reading Challenge is a national initiative run by The Reading Agency and was set up to help children keep up their standard of reading during the long summer break as well as simply to read for fun.

The challenge officially launched on Saturday 12 July and on the same day the Reading Agency launched their #PassABook social media campaign, asking people to suggest great mythical books for others to read. There was also a chance for people to tweet about their involvement in Summer Reading Challenge using the #SummerReadingChallenge hashtag.

Also launched on Saturday is ImagiNation, a new summer challenge created by libraries to get 11-16 year-olds reading over the summer holidays. As part of the campaign, Norfolk's youngsters are joining with young people from nine other authorities in the east of England to share creative and artistic ideas about books that they've read.*

To take part in the Summer Reading Challenge, children and parents can go along to any library in Norfolk now, or at any point during the summer holidays, and receive a Mythical Maze pack and be given information about events and activities planned over the summer. To find out where your local library is and to see what events they are holding throughout the holidays, visit www.norfolk.gov.uk/libraries

My daughter asked me for a pet spider for her birthday, so I went to our local pet shop and they were £70!!! Blow this, I thought, I can get one cheaper off the web.

'Coasthopping'

Norfolk County Council To continue into autumn 2015 as agreement is reached to secure bus service

The future of a popular coastal bus service has been secured, following agreement between Norfolk CC and Norfolk Green. The Coasthopper service runs from King's Lynn to Cromer every half an hour, via Hunstanton, Wells and Sheringham and last year carried over 500,000 passengers.

The Council's longstanding investment in Coasthopper, building the route from scratch, has provided the platform for the summer elements to be operated on a commercial basis. Norfolk Green will operate the summer period without council The County Council will still invest in the winter service to provide journeys all year around. The decision was finalised following a public consultation about the service in November 2013.

The agreement between the two parties means that the Coasthopper service will continue to run at the current frequency levels for both the summer and winter until at least autumn 2015, with discussions planned for future developments. Toby Coke, Chairman of Norfolk County Council's Environment, Development and Transport Committee, said: "The Coasthopper represents a vital means of transport for many residents in West Norfolk and across the North Norfolk coast, so I'm very pleased that between us and Norfolk Green, we've been able to secure its future for the medium term.

"The fact that the County Council has managed to make savings in its contribution to the service while allowing the route and frequency of the Coasthopper to remain unaffected for at least another year means this is not just good news for passengers but the Norfolk taxpayer as well.

"Our next step is to investigate viable options to allow the Coasthopper to continue to run beyond autumn 2015 and we are hoping to secure further private investment."

Andrew Dyer, MD of Norfolk Green, said "Coasthopper is a superb example of partnership working between public and private sectors. The effort and investment put in by both parties since the service started in 1996 has produced the success story that we see today.

"I am delighted that we have been able to secure the future of the service with the current summer and winter timetables until late next year and I am confident that the route will have a bright future beyond that."

KIDS IN CHURCH

- 1. A Sunday school teacher asked her class, "What was Jesus' mother's name?" One child answered, "Mary." The teacher then asked, "Who knows what Jesus' father's name was?" A little kid said, "Verge." Confused, the teacher asked, "Where did you get that?" The kid said, "Well, you know, they are always talking about Verge n' Mary."
- 2. A little boy was overheard praying: "Lord, if you can't make me a better boy, don't worry about it. I'm having a real good time like I am."
- 3. After the christening of his baby brother in church, Jason sobbed all the way home in the back seat of the car. His father asked him three times what was wrong. Finally, the boy replied, "That preacher said he wanted us brought up in a Christian home and I wanted to stay with you guys."
- 4. I had been teaching my three-year old daughter, Caitlin, the Lord's Prayer for several evenings at bedtime. She would repeat after me the lines from the prayer. Finally, she decided to go solo. I listened with pride as she carefully enunciated each word, right up to the end of the prayer:"Lead us not into temptation," she prayed, "but deliver us from E-mail.
- 5. A Sunday school teacher asked her children as they were on the way to church service, "And why is it necessary to be quiet in church?" One bright little girl replied, "Because people are sleeping."
- 6. Six-year-old Angie and her four-year-old brother, Joel, were sitting together in church. Joel giggled, sang, and talked out loud. Finally, his big sister had had enough. "You're not supposed to talk out loud in church." "Why? Who's going to stop me?" Joel asked. Angie pointed to the back of the church and said, "See those two men standing by the door? They're hushers.
- 7. A mother was preparing pancakes for her sons, Kevin 5, and Ryan 3. The boys began to argue over who would get the first pancake. Their mother saw the opportunity for a moral lesson. "If Jesus were sitting here, He would say, 'Let my brother have the first pancake, I can wait.' Kevin turned to his younger brother and said, "Ryan, you be Jesus!"
- 8. A wife invited some people to dinner. At the table, she turned to their six-year-old daughter and said, "Would you like to say the blessing?" "I wouldn't know what to say," the girl replied. "Just say what you hear Mommy say," the wife answered. The daughter bowed her head and said, "Lord, why on earth did I invite all these people to dinner?"

BARTON BENDISH & EASTMOOR VILLAGE NEWS

Village Open Gardens

Our annual Open Gardens this year took place on June 29th with a record breaking 16 gardens open to the public. During the days and weeks leading up to it, the village gardens were hives of activity and the village as a whole looked wonderful. After weeks of sunny weather, with perhaps the odd shower, we couldn't believe our luck (or lack of it!) when on the morning of the 29th, early sun turned to grey clouds that got darker and darker and then just before we were about to open, the shower turned to a deluge and the road outside the village hall flooded! Thankfully after a while this passed and the afternoon saw many visitors pour into the village as the sun made an appearance. Thank you to those hardy souls who donned all manner of wet weather gear and came to support us no matter what at lunchtime - you were a sight for sore eyes!

It was great to see such a variety of beautiful and interesting gardens open and there were many comments from the visitors about how impressed they were with all that could be seen. Our sincere thanks go out to all who committed themselves to the hard work that took place in order to open their gardens for us, we are truly grateful. Of course the event could not happen without the volunteers who sell the tickets, help with refreshments, provide and sell plants (thanks Olly for the best plant stall I think Open Gardens has ever seen!), cakes and raffle prizes, Fiona with her Phoenix cards and of course the unsung heroes who put up and take down the signs and who advertise the event. This is such a small village but as one visitor put it 'it stages an event that involves the community worthy of many times its size'.

Well done everyone and thank you.

Wednesday Walks

On Wednesday 1 July, we parked at Larchwood and enjoyed a circular walk along sunny forest rides, ancient tracks and footpaths. We missed Sue Pennell's expertise with naming flowers and butterflies this month. Nevertheless, she had made sure that we would not miss the bee orchids growing in a small clearing on our route through the forest – they were very special.

Our next walk is on Wednesday 6 August, leaving the village hall at 10am and there will be two more evening walks this month, leaving the hall at 7pm on Wednesday 13 and 20 August. There is a small fee of £2 for the evening walks, so that we can have a drink together in the hall when we get back. Hope you can join us. (No dogs on evening walks please.)

Sue Pennell and Leah Spencer

Parish Council

The Councillors discussed the suggestions by Mrs Leah Spencer to improve the appearance of the bus stop. Whilst it was agreed that the bus stop could look more welcoming, it has yet to be decided who would take on the role of Warden. If any members of the public wish to volunteer for this role please contact me. Any suggestions for improvement will also be considered.

The next meeting will be held 8th September. As always, everyone is welcome to attend. If you have a query or a problem, you can consult any of the Councillors at any time – they are more than willing to listen and help if they can.

At the July meeting it was good to have Vesna, our President, back and we thank Irene for doing a sterling job as Vice President in her absence. Vesna welcomed two visitors this month and noted that Pauline had now joined us.

Jenny thanked Ann on behalf of the Members for organising a very successful Crochet afternoon. Members were reminded about the Village Fete and help needed for the Festival of Flowers later in the month.

The Speaker for the evening was Claire Dunne, owner of Ceres Bookshop, who gave a most interesting talk about her involvement as a Rotarian. She told us that the movement was founded in 1905 in Chicago and there are 1.2 million members throughout the World. In Swaffham a Rotary Club was formed in 1969 with 27 Members. Their aim is to have fun, make friends and raise money for local and international organisations. Claire gave a verv interesting and emotional account of her involvement in Immunisation Project against Polio in 2006 which took place in India. We were all very moved with what she told us. Claire is an excellent Speaker and we enjoyed the talk very much.

There were two Birthdays to celebrate Brenda and Anita.

Flower of the Month was won by Vesna, Competition Jenny and the Raffle by Brenda our lucky visitor.

Eileen gave the Thought for the Month 'Every day is wonderful if only you could see how the threads are woven on the looms of destiny. Some day you will understand how time is working out – a plan and purpose for your own good. Believe and never doubt......

Next Meeting is August 7th and will be held in the Old Rectory Garden at 2 pm. New Members would be most welcome.

Our next big fund raising event will be the Fete and Country Fair on Sunday 31 August 12noon – 5pm. There will be old favourites like the Lamb National, Clay Pigeon Shoot and Dog Show; live music from the Downham Swing Band; the marvellous Beachamwell Bric-a-Brac marquee; plenty for you to eat and drink – tea and cake, real ale, Indian snacks, barbecue, ice cream van, homemade fudge; lots of games and activities for all ages and more craft stalls than ever. What better way to end the summer holidays than at a traditional Fete and Country Fair on our village green – an afternoon of fun for all the family!

The weather was fine again for the Pop Up Pub on 4 July and it was great to see lots of villagers meeting up for a chat over a drink. The next Pop Up will be on 26 September – look out for posters, emails etc. nearer the time.

Horticultural Society Annual Show

The show will take place in the Memorial Hall on Sunday 17 August. Please bring all entries to the hall between 8.30 -10am. Don't forget the show now includes preserves and handicrafts, as well as vegetables, fruit and flowers – so if you don't grow potatoes, onions etc. there will probably still be something you can enter. If you need a schedule they are available in St Mary's Church and in the foyer of the Memorial Hall.

The Annual Show is open to the public at 2pm and cups are presented at 3pm. Do join us and enjoy one of the highlights of the village year.

The Great Family Scarecrow Competition

All families with children/grandchildren of school age living in the readership area of Group 4 News, are invited to make a scarecrow for this year's Annual Show. Let your imaginations run wild – the only rule is that the scarecrow has to be on a broom handle.

Bring your finished scarecrow to the Memorial Hall between 8.30 -10am on Sunday 17 August. The results will be announced in the hall at 3pm. Entry forms from me.

Boughton Fen Wildlife Walk - Official Opening 21st June 2014

On a glorious sunny afternoon Boughton villagers, invited guests and visitors assembled down at Boughton Fen to celebrate the opening of the Fen Wildlife Walk.

People started to arrive shortly after 2pm and by 2.30pm a large number had gathered, ready to walk the route which had been mowed and cut by volunteers a couple of days previously.

The guest of honour was Mrs Joy Boldero, who had been chosen to 'cut the ribbon' as she had presented Boughton Fen with the inaugural Boldero Award, in conjunction with the Campaign for the Protection of Rural England. This award was for access to the countryside and had been made in memory of her husband. Charles.

We all set off, accompanied by the committee members across the boardwalk towards Lower Fen. It seemed a long column of walkers that followed the route, laughing and chatting and passing Joy's dog, Tammy, from person to person as we went.

On arrival at the tall signboard on Highland Fen, we were met by a red ribbon across the path. Frank introduced Joy to the walkers. She gave a short speech before cutting the ribbon. Mark followed this with some more words, whilst the rest of the Committee were busy pouring out and handing around glasses of nice cold bubbly.

Andy Beeston's two grandchildren presented Joy with a gift and everyone enjoyed their drinks while Dave and Mark demonstrated the 'path cutter'. We set off again around the remainder of the walk and back to the cars. Everyone had enjoyed the afternoon and our visitors seemed very impressed by the achievements of Boughton Fen Committee and their willing band of volunteers.

Sue Pogmore (Well done to all concerned - excellent work....Ed.)

All aboard the boardwalk.......

The Boughton Fen Committee thank all who attended our official opening of Boughton Fen Wildlife Walk. We are immensely proud to have such a wonderful asset on our doorstep, which has provided the village with an award winning wildlife walk. Our awards include, CPRE Award, Boldero Award, Norfolk Biodiversity Partnership Award and a Lloyds Bank Community Award.

We are aware that some of you were unable to join us on the day so if you would like an accompanied tour sometime in the future then please contact Angela on 501335.

Please remember, there is always the website www.boughtonfen.org.uk for further information. The website provides access to a gallery of photos showing the construction of the boardwalk and other working parties and where you can also view photos of the recent open day.

A plea for help

The church recently had its Quinquennial Inspection. As the name suggests, it's a five yearly inspection of the building and churchyard by the appointed architect looking for repair work which needs to be done over the next five years. We are more fortunate than some churches, being a small and fairly modern building, but some things need to be done and the PCC and the architect have suggested that some of the work could well be done by volunteers. Although the building is now a community centre for the village, the actual church congregation is small in number and the majority are into their seventies or older. To do all the work the architect has suggested over the next five years would cost approximately three times the amount we currently have in church funds, without taking into account the regular running costs, such as our payment to the Diocese, oil, electricity etc. We have lost some of our previous collection sources in recent years as people have died or moved away. The sort of work which it might be possible to do with volunteers concerns drains, removing moss from walls, gutters, decorating the church gate etc, redecorating the weather vane and clearing the gutters in the tower, cleaning the silence chamber.

If you are able to help in any way, please contact Angela and Andrew Faherty 501335. The Annual Church cycle ride is on the second Saturday, so if you can't ride, you might be able to join a party of friends of the church/community centre. Pam Wakeling

Dog Fouling.

As many residents will know dog fouling in our village and on the Fen remains an issue.

Please consider how offensive and annoying dog fouling is to other users of the public spaces in our village and the fen.

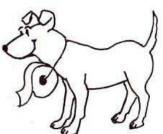

Jane Edwards our area Police Community Support Officer has been consulted and she has offered assistance. Jane now has extended powers to help deal with this problem and she will be providing us with information posters that we will make available.

Please help encourage responsible dog walking so that everyone can enjoy our village and Boughton Fen and spread the message:

"DOG WALKERS PLEASE REMOVE YOUR DOG FOULING"

Thank you.

Boughton Parish Council and Boughton Fen Committee.

Open Gardens at Wereham

It doesn't seem possible that we held our 12th Open Gardens on June 15th. Although the weather was cool and rather cloudy it stayed dry for the afternoon and we welcomed friends old and new from a large area to the event.

We had 10 gardens open including two new ones this year. Thank you to the gardeners who so willingly opened their gardens and provided such a friendly welcome which is always appreciated by our visitors. It couldn't be done without you. I hope we have perhaps persuaded others in the village to consider opening next year.

We raised our equal best total of £1084.00 which is brilliant.

Thank you to everyone who baked cakes or savouries which were served by the hard working lunch and tea ladies (Doreen, Marion, Pauline, Sheila and Wendy) in the village hall, not forgetting our waitress Ellie.

Thanks to Sara and Jane for selling maps and raffle tickets and Ivy for running a tombola.

A big thank you to Ronnie also who not only opened her garden this year for the first time but grew the majority of the superb plants on the plant stall and dispensed her vast knowledge to customers. She was helped too by Stina and Sara. Thanks ladies.

If I have forgotten to thank anybody publicly, it isn't because I don't value your contribution to the day, I do, and thank you.

Flegg Green Post Box

I contacted Royal Mail about the removal of the Post Box from Flegg Green.

This is the reply I received:-

'Thank you for your email dated the 10th of June regarding the post box Flegg Green, that had been relocated to the centre of the village.

On receipt of your email, I contacted the Collections Planning Manager concerned. He has looked into your request but has informed me that the mentioned area does not warrant the installation of a new post-box at this time.

As part of our regulatory requirements, we must ensure that there is a post-box within half a mile of at least 98% of all 'delivery points' (usually a customer's letter-box) nationally.

It was deemed that the post box in Flegg Green had to be removed due to structural damage with a new box to be installed on the other side of the main road. The distances between the boxes did not warrant so many.

As the current posting facilities in the mentioned area already met the guidelines under business and Ofcom regulation, I regret that the box had to be removed.

Thank you for contacting us about this and I'm sorry for any disappointment caused by this decision. If you need to contact us again regarding this matter, please remember to quote reference number 1-3036069223.

Regards

Sapna Teckwani (Customer Service Advisor)

That seems to be the end of the matter.

July Update from Wereham Village Hall Committee Update from our Ordinary meetings on 17th June and 7th July:

New trustee, Nikki Loake was welcomed to the meeting as a representative of the monthly Car Boot and Café. She is already getting fully involved, having just attended a workshop on the SPICE Time Credits Scheme. This is an exciting initiative to reward volunteers.....more details next month when she has completed the training!

We received notification that our application to the Love Norfolk Fund was successful; we have been awarded £2000 towards new heaters after the old ones were condemned earlier in the year.

The main achievement of the month was completion of the Design Brief for a new Village Hall, taking into account the opinions of all our focus groups. This is a big milestone as it enables us to start looking for and getting quotes from suitable architects etc.

It was also decided that now was the time to submit a planning pre-application to the borough council as this will provide us with invaluable information and guidance as to what options we have without incurring the costs of a full planning application. This means that over the coming weeks, it is likely that various options will be discussed and consulted upon with the local community. We should make it clear that at this stage, there are no firm decisions, just different options that we are exploring with regards to both design and location of a new hall.

Update from the new build team

Committee members enjoyed a visit to Thornham Village Hall who were awarded Lottery funding in 2012. We were given a presentation on the very professional village cinema, then took the opportunity to freely investigate all the facilities from the loft storage to the oohing and aahing over the spacious kitchen facilities. This was followed by a chat with the Chair, Colin Venes, who as part of a team of four, achieved funding for the new build. Thanks to Chris from the Village Cinema and Colin Venes for enthusiastically giving up their time to support our project. Lots of ideas and solutions were picked up from the visit. We've welcomed Trustee Rachel Barron to the Team. While we respond to suggested amends on the Lottery application from the NRCC and WVNCA, we're also exploring options to deliver the needs of our community.

Victoria, Helen, Rachel and John

Thank you to all of our Friends of Wereham Village Hall volunteers who co-ordinated and supported several events during July.

Helen Richardson, Secretary.

Ink Cartridges & Bottle tops- collection boxes for ink cartridges are on the piano in the hall, open 10-12 Fridays. Or alternatively, leave them in a bag at the door of the village hall.

We have had a fantastic response to our bottle tops collection. Unfortunately however, we are finding storage very problematic. The volumes required before they can be disposed of are enormous and the income they create is very small. If anyone knows of another local charity/collection point, we will happily donate our bottle tops to them and even continue to collect on their behalf. Please contact Rachel on 01366 502252 if you can help. If we cannot find a recipient in the next few weeks though, we will have to stop further collections before we all drown in a sea of brightly coloured plastic!

Easy access, ample on-site parking, dedicated sterile operating theatre, dedicated dental suite, separate dog and cat wards, isolation ward, all staff and facilities on one site, x-ray suite, in-house laboratory, ultrasound facilities, Pet Passport, export services and 24 hour nursing cover.

Many practices now use other veterinary services for their out of hours work. This means that you will have to travel to an unfamiliar practice which is likely to be much further away. Despite being only a two vet practice we continue to do all our own on call cover. The phones are diverted directly to the vet on call as we know that clients appreciate a familiar voice at the end of the phone 24 hours a day who knows their pets and if treatment is necessary then they prefer to travel to their own practice to be seen. This is part of our Professional and Personal service that our existing clients are accustomed to and we warmly welcome new clients who wish to register with us.
